PRESIDENTIAL OUTLOOK.

When the news flashed over the country that both the republicans and progressive conventions had named tickets at Chicago, a thrill of satisfaction swept over the democrats of the country and a wave of regret encompassed the republicans. The reason was that members of all parties could readily see that President Wilson would have an easy road to travel to reelection.

But since that time there has been more light thrown on the situation and that light has very materially changed the outlook. If the utterances of Justice Hughes should meet with the approval of the members of the progressive national committee, there is every probability that the progressives will not put a ticket in the field but will support Justice Hughes. If that is done President Wilson will have before him a very hard fight for reelection with the chances strongly against him.

Judging from the utterances of Justice Hughes in his reply to the republican convention, when notified of his nomination, he will take just such a view of the political situation and national affairs as will accord with the views of the progressives. That means that Roosevelt and the whole progressive party will join in an effort to elect Hughes.

While there will be some republicans who will support Mr. Wilson, there is little probability that the million and more republicans and progressives that made up the majority of the popular vote against him four years ago will anywhere near all vote for him nor the half of them. That will mean his defeat.

It is folly, however, for the republicans to claim that they have an easy job to defeat President Wilson. The present war has brought prosperous times that will redound to the credit of President Wilson and his policies.

The fight promises to be a hot one with much doubt as to the outcome. Naturally republicans will claim victory for Hughes and democrats will claim victory for Wilson, but the real truth is neither side feels sure of winning.

CHOOSING A SHERIFF.

The coming work of the republican county committee in selecting a candidate for sheriff has brought out a condition that is very encouraging indeed. The sentiment is very strong with many of our best people for the selection of a man for the office who will do his duty fearlessly and stand for moral rectitude and good behavior in every way.

It is not unusual—in fact it is the rule—with our people to especially desire a good man for sheriff, but on this occasion the leading citizens are in many instances taking it upon themselves to personally urge the members of the committee to exercise care and select the very best man possible. This is an encouraging situation and is as it should be.

The writer feels that every member of the committee should realize that the people of the county are demanding that a good man be chosen. Not only a GOOD man, but the BEST POSSIBLE MAN. It is hoped that every member of the committee will labor with the single thought of giving the people a man with the highest possible integrity and one well qualified

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

for the duties of the office.

When that is done it rests with the people to elect him.

After election is often the time when the people are the most disappointed and that disappointment often comes quickly. It comes in the naming of deputies. No man can do his duty to the people who names as deputies men known to favor or associate with the lawless element. No sheriff has a right to expect peace, order and good behavior to be maintained by his deputy unless that deputy is a lawabiding citizen and is known to be firmly opposed to lawlessness.

Let the coming sheriff bear that in mind.

War is on in the republican party in this state and the chances for the republicans to elect either United States senator or governor this fall are far from flattering.

Jesse M. Littleton, an avowed local politician, has been elected national committeeman through violating a solemn agreement and the breaking of instructions by some committeemen. Jesse got there by one vote and the wheels of decency in the republican party were turned backward.

Every person well knows that local option is only another way of being for whiskey. For that reason the republicans of Tennessee will not give countenance to the rape of decency and the great harm done to the party.

Former Gov. Ben W. Hooper, Congressman Sam R. Sells, our elector Hon. I. J. Human, and others stood for the clean thing in staying with the understanding arrived at in the state convention. H. Clay Evans killed himself a little "deader" than he was before by standing with the Littleton whiskey crowd.

The bureau of statistics at Washington shows that on ten articles alone the exports for the year ending February, 1916, were over one hundred and sixty millions more than for the like period ending February, 1915, in face of the fact that for seven months of the 1915 year war orders helped very much to swell exports.

Those who would minimize the effects of the war on the existing business condition tell you that the munitions—that is guns and powder—sales only represents five percent of our export business. They do not attempt to deny, however, that munitions is only one of more than a dozen lines of industry that practically owes its life to the war. That is the real truth of the situation as every one knows.

The real facts are, there is scarcely a single article that goes to make up the living of our people that is not greatly effected by the war. In the face of these facts they talk of this not being war prosperity. Thinking people know better.

It is estimated that there is enough waste from the sawmills of the South alone to produce twenty thousand tons of paper a day.

The "cock sureness" with which the nations engaged in war tell of the losses of the enemy must be either startling or amusing to those who really know the truth.

MANY CANDIDATES.

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armor glistening just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia? Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions are being sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by some of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you this extraordinary offer. We will give you

FREE—"Europe at War"

A big book and over 300 pages, size 10 x 7 inches, handsomely and durably bound in cloth, containing the dramatic history of the great events leading up to the present time; over 50 important and timely special articles by experts on the different phases of the conflict; hundreds of graphic pictures, portraits, photographs, diagrams, specially drawn war maps, illuminating statistical records, copies of official documents and diplomatic messages exchanged between the powers—a clear, vivid, accurate, permanent, interesting and valuable record—a record which once seen you will not willingly be without. Europe's past and present are here dramatically pictured and presented. Hundreds of illustrations graphically tell their own stories. More fascinating than any romance, here is a history so vivid, so dramatic, so stirring, so fascinating, so realistic, so wonderfully presented, so thrillingly told that it leaves an ineffable impression.

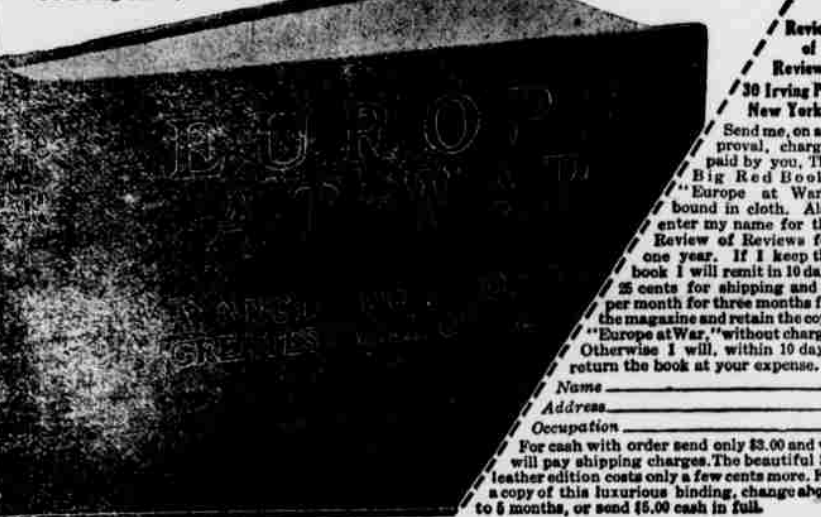

Your War News Clarified

ants for the place of sheriff to be considered by the county republican committee Saturday.

The following have been mentioned as aspirants and while there may be others, we are not prepared to vouch for the fact that several mentioned are in reality candidates: John Q. Wyatt, J. F. Brown, John Q. Burnett, J. D. Wyatt, H. D. Hover, A. L. Potter, G. W. Walker, J. A. Hassler, Geo. McIntosh, J. S. Garrison, J. B. Angel. Mr. Angel declares his candidacy in this issue of the Chronicle.

John Q. Burnett stated Monday to at least two of the county committee that so many of his friends had urged that he stand for the office that he had allowed some to announce that he would be before the committee as a candidate, but that after further consideration, he had decided not to be a candidate and did not wish the committee to consider him. He took occasion to make it very plain that he was sure the first duty of the committee is to get a good man regardless of whether his name was presented to the committee or not.

Grapevine

Sing "Aloha" to Pacific Mail.

The Pacific liner Manchuria sailed for San Francisco festooned with wreaths bearing the legend, "Aloha Pacific Mail."

All Honolulu assembled to see the departure of the last Pacific mail vessel. On her arrival at San Francisco the Manchuria will be turned over to the International Mercantile Marine, which has already taken possession of the other five steamships which, with the Persia, sold to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, constituted the Pacific Mail company's transpacific fleet—Honolulu Dispatch Portland Oregonian.

THINKS THE IDEA A GOOD ONE.

This Man Approves of Our Plan to Put This Section to the Front.

The following letter from Frank S. Anderson, manager of the "Scandinavian," the foremost Scandinavian paper of that section of the United States, approves of our plan to tell what our farmers have done and what they will have to sell in the way of live stock this fall. Mr. Anderson has much newspaper experience and his approval is very encouraging. The letter follows:

"Chicago, June 7th, 1916.
 "Mr. S. C. Bishop,
 "Editor Crossville Chronicle,
 "Crossville, Tenn.

"Dear Sir:—I have your letter of the 2nd and also the copy of the letter which you propose sending out to your readers in order to secure data for the article you intend to publish.

"Let me say that I think your idea is a splendid one and there is no question in my mind but what an increased interest in your section will result from the publication of the article.

"Anything which will serve to make known the wonderful resources and possibilities of the 'Plateau' country is to be commended and I am glad that you have given me the opportunity to secure copies of your paper containing the article.

"I am enclosing check for 50 copies of the issue in question and I can assure you that they will go where I believe they will do effective missionary work.

"You are making a rattling good paper of the Chronicle and I wish you continued success. I notice you have a few things to say and you do not seem to hesitate in saying them.

"Fraternally yours,
 "F. S. Anderson."

HOW BREAD IS MADE.

Sarah L. Kinsey, until recently District Agent in Home Economics for West Tennessee, has written a twelve-page publication entitled "Good Light Bread." This publication takes up every part of the process of bread making in the home. Twelve recipes are given for the use of bread. The publication is interesting and will be widely read. A copy will be sent free to anyone asking for it. Address letters to Extension Division, University of Tennessee, Knoxville. Or a copy of the publication may be secured from any County Agent in Home Economics.
